

Cambridge crew out on the river at Putney for a morning workout.
Copyright, Kadel & Herbert News Service.

American farmer boys at Johannesburg, Berlin, inspecting airplanes which were destroyed in compliance with the Versailles Treaty. The Americans were in charge of transporting milk cows recently shipped from this country to Germany. Photo Underwood & Underwood.

Above—The Prince of Wales (in centre) at the Grand Military Steeplechase at Sandown. On the left is the Duke of York and on the right Prince Henry.
Copyright, Kadel & Herbert News Service.

At Right—Arthur C. Morgan, 15-year-old sculptor, working on a bust of Dr. Simon Baruch. This is the second statue Morgan has made from life and his work has been praised highly by art critics. He was born in Louisiana and now lives in New York.
Copyright, Keystone View.

Miss Virginia Sterry, at left, and Miss Beatrice Beard of New York, photographed at Hot Springs, Va., where they are enjoying the season.
Photo, International.

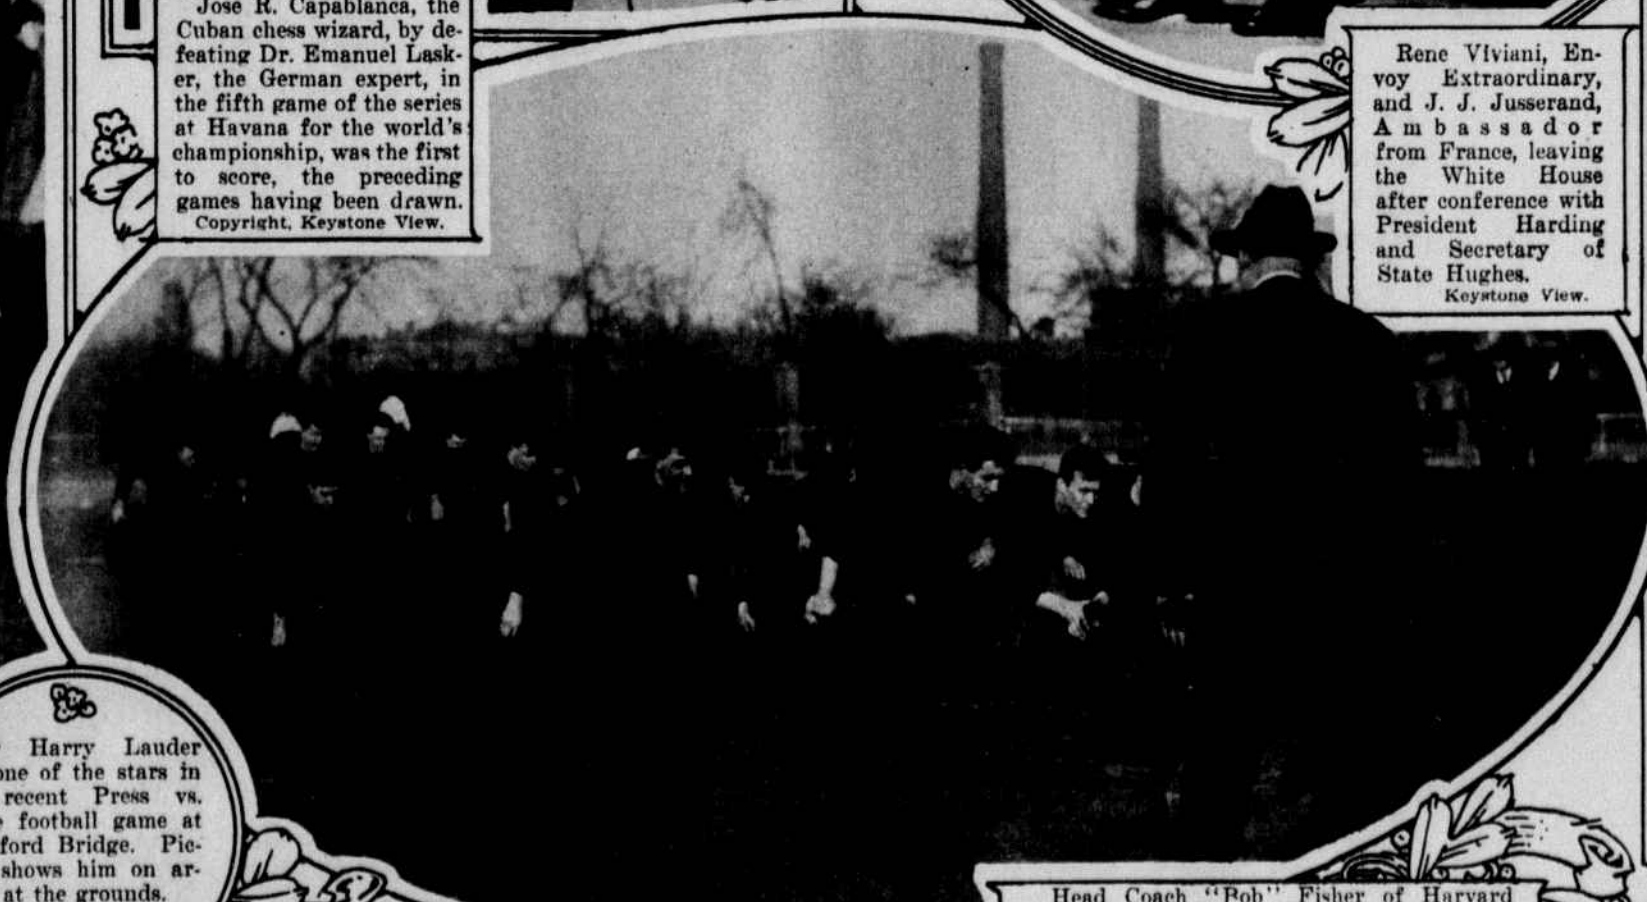

Jose R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess wizard, by defeating Dr. Emanuel Lasker, the German expert, in the fifth game of the series at Havana for the world's championship, was the first to score, the preceding games having been drawn.
Copyright, Keystone View.

Rene Viviani, Envoy Extraordinary, and J. J. Jusserand, Ambassador from France, leaving the White House after conference with President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.
Keystone View.

Sir Harry Lauder was one of the stars in the recent Press vs. Stage football game at Stamford Bridge. Picture shows him on arrival at the grounds.
Copyright, Kadel & Herbert News Service.

Head Coach "Bob" Fisher of Harvard putting three squads of football recruits through formations on the first day of spring practice on Soldiers' Field.
International.

A fashion novelty recently photographed at Nice.
Copyright, Kadel & Herbert News Service.